A communication was received from the postmaster of Los Angeles, explaining that the action of the Board at its last meeting in regard to establishment of free delivery service, was insufficient.

On motion the following resolution was adopted:

"Whereas, petitions have been received asking the Board to petition the United States postal authorities to extend free delivery service to Glendale; now therefore, the Board of Trustees of the City of Glendale hereby petitions the Postmaster General of the United States that Glendale postoffice be made a branch of the Los Angeles postoffice, and that the city free delivery service be extended from Los Angeles to include the City of Glendale."

A communication was received from L. F. Hadrich requesting the transfer of the pool room license held by him to L. C. Wardell. On motion this transfer was allowed by the following vote: Ayes, Anderson, Parcher; Noes, Cole; absent, Grant and Watson.

An ordinance creating the office of City Electrician, providing for the appointment and bond of such officer, prescribing his duties and establishing rules and regulations for installing, connecting, wiring or otherwise putting in electrical wires, equipment, etc., was read first and second times.

An ordinance creating the office of City Plumbing Inspector, providing for his appointment and prescribing his powers and duties and establishing rules and regulations for plumbing work, passed first and second readings.

An ordinance authorizing and directing the execution and delivery of a quit claim deed to O. W. Childs Estate Company of a portion of lots 14, 15 and 16 of the Childs Tract, was read first and second times.

An ordinance adopting specifications for grading and oiling streets, was read twice and laid over. Report of the City Engineer on the cost of improving Maple street from Central avenue to Glendale avenue, was received and filed a map of the proposed improvements on Maple street, was adopted.

A report of the City Engineer on the cost of improving Mary street from Third street to Fifth street, was received and filed. A map showing proposed improvements on Mary street was adopted.

The City Marshal was instructed to notify parties playing ball on the public streets, that this is a violation of ordinance, and that they are subject to arrest.

AUCTION OF HIGH SCHOOL PROPERTY.

The buildings, consisting of three houses, a barn and some smaller buildings situated on the lots recently purchased for the site of the new High School building, were put up at auction last Saturday. The barn was sold to the late owner, J. W. Parker, for $100. Mr. J. L. Overton bought three of the small buildings, but no bidder was found for the three houses at the minimum price fixed by the trustees, namely $400, $750 and $900. It is probable that the buildings will be disposed of at private sale. Judge Melrose acted as auctioneer.

FROM A FAR COUNTRY.

Dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. E. U. Emery at their home on Wednesday were Mrs. P. J. Ferguson, Mr. and Mrs. H. Johnston, who are spending the summer here, and Mr. and Mrs. W. M. Johnston of Nome, Alaska, who are enjoying a trip throughout Southern California, and in whose honor the dinner was given.

Eachus-Varney

Through an oversight of our reporter the marriage of Mr. H. B. Eachus of the Central Market, Brand Boulevard, to Mrs. Maud Varney was not announced promptly, but the happy event occurred some two weeks ago. Mr. and Mrs. Eachus are at home on Orange Grove avenue.

Mr. and Mrs. Elias Ayres returned to Glendale on Tuesday after several weeks' absence in Ohio, visiting relatives. They report the sections of the Buckeye state that they visited, generally prosperous with good crop prospects, although there are some portions of the state where drouth prevails.

The Glendale fire department showed its neighborly good will by going over to Eagle Rock on Monday last while the brush fire there was raging. Although fortunately no buildings were destroyed the fire was seriously near to some of them and the chemical engine might have been of good service had the buildings caught.

Mr. H. R. Postle, former Glendale city engineer, visited Glendale this week. Mr. Postle was accompanied by a prominent engineer from the City of Mexico, who is investigating street improvements with a view to profiting by his knowledge in future work in the sister republic. He was much pleased with the result of his investigations, particularly with our street work done by the petroleific process.

On last Tuesday J. L. Overton passed another milestone. He celebrated his 73d birthday with a family reunion and a delightful dinner. A joyous time was passed. Little Mildred Francis Overton cut the birthday cake. Notwithstanding the frosts of fifty winters in Missouri and twenty-three summers in California he was permitted in the evening to enjoy the congenial society of about eighty Masons until a late hour.

Rev. Agnes S. Ralph and Miss Agnes C. Ralph from Oshkosh, Wis., recently from Osage, Ia., have been visiting this week with the family of Mr. Leavitt. Mrs. Ralph has been for some years a minister of the Universalist denomination. Miss Ralph has been teaching at Elkhorn, Wis., but now has a good position in the High School at Orange, this state. She is a graduate of the University of Wisconsin.

Rev. M. M. Eshelman, formerly of Tropic, called at the NEWS office Monday. We were pained to learn that Mr. and Mrs. Eshelman suffered a great loss by the burning of their home at Lomita, near San Pedro about two weeks ago. As is common in such cases, the insurance did not cover the full amount of value of the property destroyed and many pictures and other family belongings were burned, which it will be impossible to replace.

As usual Glendale has done her full duty to the nearby beaches this season. However the first of the month will see all that belong to us "in our midst" once more. By the time the school bells ring the same old feeling will unanimously abide that "Glendale is the best ever"—at least until another summer, when the ocean is a magnet against which we cannot compete, only because, of course, we are not on the job, being ourselves temporarily at old Ocean side with the rest of Southern California.

That portion of Glendale avenue between Fourth and Sixth streets has been tamped during the past week under the directions of Street Superintendent Sinclair in order to secure a harder surface. At the time this part of the street was improved it was given a more liberal supply of oil than the specifications called for and the result has not been entirely satisfactory as the soft surface is difficult for heavy teams. It is thought that the treatment just given it will give satisfactory results.

The Glendale Study Club met with Mrs. Pomeroy on Louise street, August

20. Mrs. Traphagen and Mrs. Taylor each furnished exceptionally interesting papers. The former having "The Boston Tea Party" and the latter "George Washington." After the reading of the papers Mrs. Eckas of Los Angeles and Mrs. Taylor gave the ladies a highly entertaining talk on Mt. Vernon, both having visited that historic spot. The current topics hour was particularly pleasant. The club meets with Mrs. Brooks, corner of First and Louise streets, Thursday, September 3.

Mr. J. N. Metcalf and wife returned last week from a month's trip to Alaska and intermediate points. Mr. Metcalf speaks in glowing terms of the pleasure of the trip. They reached Skagway, Alaska, 1000 miles north of Seattle, and went to the summit of the famous White Horse pass, now reached by a railroad, which was the scene of hardships and tragedies in the early days of the first discovery of Alaskan oilfields. They sailed for days on the icy waters, flanked on either side by green islands and peaks of snow. At the farthest point north the sun set about ten o'clock.

THE OLD SETTLER'S PICNIC.

The second annual picnic of the Old Settlers Association was held at Echo Park Saturday and was, of course, a success. The Old Settlers and a large number of candidates who promised to qualify as fast as time would permit, began to gather about 10 o'clock and kept coming all day. The most of them were on the grounds by noon, however, and promptly at twelve the sumptuous luncheon was spread and vigorously attacked by the crowd present, all of whom had brought appetites along befitting the occasion. There were a few family groups scattered over the picnic grounds in various places, but the great majority of those present feasted socially at two long tables spread for the occasion, in truly communistic style. Old Settler B. F. Patterson and Mrs. Mary A. Ayres presided over the coffee department and served it up excellent in quality and in most generous supply. Old Settler Edward Ayres had a bottle which was in the beginning of the proceedings well filled with wine of his own making, but it soon ran dry owing to the demands of his thirsty and numerous friends. He averred that it was of the kind that "cheers but not intoxicates," and to the best of the reporter's knowledge it did not bely this assertion upon this particular occasion. What it might do if served in larger quantities, however, we cannot vouch for. Can't we believe that if Neighbor Ayres will furnish a barrel of it at next year's picnic it will add to the gaiety of nations and make many converts from the baleful habit of coffee drinking. After luncheon there were brief informal speeches made by the president, Mr. J. C. Sherer, Mr. B. F. Patterson, Mr. Edgar Leavitt, N. C. Burch, Esq., and others. Mr. Ed. Ayres recited "Buck Fanshaw's Funeral," which caught some of the old-timers present who had spent years in the mining camps, just about right. The register opened at last year's meeting was signed by nearly all who were present, giving name and year of arrival in our valley. The following officers elected at last year's meeting, were re-elected: President, J. C. Sherer; secretary and treasurer, E. D. Goode; executive committee, Mrs. Mary A. Ayres, Mr. B. F. Patterson, Mrs. S. A. Ayres, Mrs. E. D. Goode, Robert Devine. It was definitely decided that hereafter the annual picnic be held on the third Saturday in August.

Although the old settlers have started this association and have gone to work to make it a success, they wish it distinctly understood that everybody in Glendale, Tropic, Eagle Rock, Burbank, Ivanhoe and vicinity is eligible to membership, and it is hoped that all will take hold and make it a success from this time forward. The annual picnics have a tendency to promote a better knowledge and appreciation of one another and to spread the feeling of fellowship. The two meetings already held have been very successful in this direction.

Mr. N. C. Burch offered a resolution appointing a committee to frame suitable resolutions in reference to the passing away since the last meeting of H. N. Jarvis, E. T. Byram, W. C. B. Richardson and Mrs. Mary E. Patterson, all old timers of Glendale and Tropic. The chairman appointed Mr. Burch, Mrs. Ed Ayres and Mrs. S. A. Ayres members of the committee.

Mr. Sidney Dell, as one of the new old-timers, did much to enliven the proceedings. Mrs. Ellen B. Newcomb was one of the youngest of the real old-timers present, and Mr. E. B. Newcomb was also in evidence as exemplifying the rejuvenating effects of the California climate.

Postmaster Clippinger of Huntington Beach, who was largely responsible for Glendale's boom in the late '80's, was there with Mrs. Clippinger, both giving promise of attending many similar affairs in the future.

Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Thomas of Highland Park came late, but found many of their old neighbors present to greet them.

Mr. M. L. Albright of Orange street tried to make believe that he was the oldest person present.

Conspicuous by their absence were our old friends George F. Dewing and George W. Woodward, one kept at home by his feeble condition and the other being absent on a vacation.

Remember that it will take place on the third Saturday in August, next year.

Dr. A. H. Guernsey of Park avenue accompanied by his houseguest, Dr. Nelson Richmond, of Madison, New York, have returned from a pleasant sojourn at Avalon.

Travelers and campers in Paolima Canyon always rested at "Camp Tropic" to partake of the hospitality and good cheer of the campers, who claim Tropic as their home.

Miss Eulalia Richardson, the accomplished daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. W. Richardson, departs for Palo Alto, Sunday, by steamer, where she commences her third year at Stanford university.

Mr. and Mrs. David H. Imler of Palm Villa, their children, Eugene and Marjory Imler, J. B. Hickman, Miss Cora Hickman and Miss Dorothy Leech returned Monday from "Camp Tropic" in Paolima Canyon. Master Eugene supplied the camp with small game and Miss Hickman returned with a fine deer skin.

Mr. and Mrs. W. R. Light, Wayne and Leo Light, and Miss Wilda Smith of Anaheim, house guests of her aunt, Mrs. Light, returned from "Camp Tropic," Paolima Canyon, Wednesday evening. Twenty-three hundred feet above sea level, in a spot on the bank of the Paolima brook, among the pines and alders "Camp Tropic" was located.

Among the Tropic people who visited at Huntington Beach Tuesday, spending the day at the G. A. R. encampment, were Mrs. Della Hagood, Mrs. Charles Rifenberck, Mrs. E. B. Ellias, Mrs. W. W. Dutton, Mrs. B. F. Burlingham, Mrs. Hattie Vance, Mrs. Susie Miller, Misses Stella Miller, Elsie Vance, Annie Miller, Mildred Miller and Lorenzo Rifenberck.

Mr. E. A. Bennett has sold his interest in the Tropic Mercantile company to his partner, Mr. O. A. Gallup. Mr. Gallup has been connected with the general merchandise business in eastern states for several years and will, no doubt, make a success of the store of which he is now sole owner. Mr. Bennett goes east to attend to some business affairs, after which he will return and with his family settle down in Tropic.

One of the most enjoyable social events of the season was the "baby party" given by Mrs. E. W. Richardson and Mrs. Alexander Mitchell, Tuesday evening, at Logan's hall. The "children" were anywhere from six to well somewhat older, but all were costumed as children should be in dainty short party frocks or in boyish knickerbocker suits.

It was amusing to watch the youngsters. You might have thought that you saw the Southern Pacific agent, but it was only little Clyde Thedaker. That rosy-cheeked little boy with a teddybear was Donald Bennett. Little Dwight Stephenson had a lovely plaid tie. Laura Shea's red bows set off her dark hair prettily. That little miss in a short blue dress was Lorraine Mitchell, a recent High School graduate.

All the children were on their good behavior and in most happy spirits, except one or two small boys who couldn't keep their stockings up.

Prizes in the shape of daintily bound books were awarded to little Jimmie Scott and Nellie Thompson for being the most successful make-believe children. Mr. Thedaker and Miss Scott ran a close second in the voting.

Among those who were invited to watch the children play were Mr. and Mrs. Chas. E. Jarvis of Long Beach, Mr. and Mrs. Chas. E. Shattuck, Mr. and Mrs. Claude O. Pulliam, Mr. and Mrs. Ezra F. Parker and Mr. and Mrs. D. H. Hough.

The ladies who entertained Tuesday evening with their enjoyable "baby party" have invited their young friends to another party to be given Friday evening, Sept. 4. A feature of the evening will be questions and answers in the form of a guessing contest, with prizes. The guests will bring paper and pencils.

FOUND DEAD.

The body of Wm. Swanner was found on the San Fernando road between Tropic and Burbank, Sunday last. It was taken to Pulliam's Undertaking establishment and an inquest was held on Monday, resulting in a verdict of death from apoplexy. He was a brother of Mr. Swanner, the druggist, in the Miradero Pharmacy on Brand Boulevard. He had formerly resided at 320 West Avenue 53, Highland Park, but recently had been living at Santa Ana.

Minstrel Show

The performance at G. A. R. hall on Wednesday and Thursday evenings, September 2d and 3d, promises to be something great. It will be the "greatest show on earth" now that Barnum is out of the way. Wednesday's performance is for the benefit of the building fund of the Woman's Relief Corps, and Thursday evening's receipts are to go to the Free Library Building Fund of the Thursday Afternoon Club. The audience will be permitted to smile out loud.

DEMOCRATIC MEETING.

The Democrats are to have a meeting tonight at Odd Fellows' Hall. The untirred who favor Jackson for president and the modern wing of the party who support a gentleman from Nebraska, named Bryan, are expected to get together and have a gloriously harmonious time. Incidentally Tony Sehwan is to be elected supervisor. Republicans are advised to take to the brush, while Socialists and Prohibitionists should keep off the streets until the affair blows over.

Constable Chas. Catlin is pretty wide awake as a general thing, but he was caught napping the other evening. He was caught in the office of the justice of the peace on Saturday last by a posse of fellow deputies and was a very much surprised man when they presented him an elegant gold mounted badge of office. Refreshments had been provided and the party had a jolly time.

HOME IS BEST.

Miss Ethel Hume Flood has returned from a year's sojourn in Germany and places of interest on the continent. She is now visiting her parents in Pomona and it is expected she will teach in the Glendale High School the coming year. This is good news for the pupils of the Union High, among whom Miss Flood enjoyed great popularity.

Quite a number of the young people went to Tropic on Tuesday evening to participate in the little dance given in Logan's Hall. Mrs. Richardson of Tropic, Mrs. Mitchell and Mrs. Church acted as hostesses.

GLENDAL, CAL., AUGUST 29, 1908

A lone highwayman in Yellowstone Park held up a string of coaches and robbed 125 people. The government prohibits the taking of firearms into the park by visitors, hence the passengers robbed were at the mercy of the robber, who had a gun or two. Notices in the park regarding the use of firearms should read as follows hereafter: "Nobody but a highwayman in the exercise his calling allowed to carry firearms in the park." Meanwhile there seems to be little doubt that the villain, if caught, can readily be convicted of misdemeanor. There seems to be ample evidence to prove that he had a gun.

We go from home frequently to get home news and here in a reliable Boston paper we find the statement that "The report from Los Angeles (library) is astounding. In two years there were stolen from the shelves 8,088 volumes and in one year 5,062." We do not recall any reference to this fact in any of the reports of Librarian Lummis which we have seen. Nor is it entirely pleasant to note that in this matter Los Angeles far outstrips any of the other libraries that are reported as heavy losers from this pilfering by a book-loving public that "loves not wisely but too well."

THE STANDARD OIL CASE.

The News condemned the inconsistent criticism of the action of the Court of Appeals in the Standard Oil case, by a great many people who could not possibly have a well informed opinion on the subject, but we shall be very glad to see Judge Grosscup and his colleagues shown to be wrong if they are wrong. The Federal attorneys in their petition for a rehearing, appear to present a very strong case. They assert that the Court of Appeals mis-stated facts; show quite clearly why that court erred in ruling that every carload of oil transported at the reduced rate did not constitute a separate case, and make a particularly strong point in showing that ignorance of the law (in this case the published rate) cannot be admitted as a proper defense. The Court of Appeals is shown to have made a misstatement when it said in its decision that Judge Landis refused to admit evidence on the part of the defense as to its ignorance of the published rate. On the contrary all such evidence was admitted. Altogether the statement of the government attorneys is a very strong one and there is yet a possibility that that $29,000,000 may have to be paid.

THE GRAND JURY.

The grand jury of the county is now in session in Los Angeles. This body is appointed yearly by the court for the purpose of overlooking county affairs, hearing complaints and rendering indictments when they see fit to do so. The present jury consists of 19 men, all of whom are on the assessment roll of the county and are taken from different sections. They are empowered to examine into all the affairs of the county, have entrance into all offices and public institutions and access to all the books. One of the principal duties is to examine the accounts of public officials, which they do by means of experts of whom a half dozen or so are employed. They are given all the authority of a court up to the point of bringing indictments. Any person considering that he has not been allowed justice in the courts has the privilege of bringing his case before the grand jury which will investigate it and have the case prosecuted by indictment if the facts warrant it. The sessions of the court are secret. Jurors receive two dollars per day and mileage. The jury holds over for from three to six months, holding as many sessions as the work requires.

THE LINCOLN-ROOSEVELT REPUBLICAN LEAGUE.

The work of the league is for the present ended. It waged a fight for the control of the organization through the primaries, and now that that contest is ended it joins its late opponents in the fight against the common enemy, giving loyal support to the national and local Republican ticket. The effort of the misguided organs of the organization to create the impression that the league was defeated in the recent contest, will not avail. The league was not defeated. It is true that it did not gain all that it contended for, but the campaign has just begun. The organization was fighting for its life and had to call into action all its reserves. More was accomplished than appears on the surface of the returns. In the county of Los Angeles the convention, although dominated by the regulars, put into its platform planks representing every reform (except one) for which the league contended. In Los Angeles County 13,000 Republican voters supported the reform movement, and these voters will be heard from again two years hence. It controls Alameda, one of the strongest Republican counties in the state, and came very near carrying San Francisco and San Diego. There is no room left for doubting that the great majority of voters recognize the necessity which demands the freedom of the party and the state from railroad control and that they see in the league movement a practical means of achieving this result. Misrepresentation and abuse may temporarily befog the issue but perseverance will command success.

DIVINE LAW EXPOUNDED BY MR. BRYAN.

We cannot overlook that discreditable passage of Mr. Bryan's speech of acceptance in which he says:

"There is a divine law of rewards. When the Creator gave us the earth, with its fruitful soil, the sunshine with its warmth, and the rains with their moisture, He proclaimed, as clearly as if His voice had thundered from the clouds, 'Go work, and according to your industry and your intelligence so shall be your reward.' Only where might has overthrown, cunning undermined or government suspended this law, has a different law prevailed. To conform the government to this law ought to be the ambition of the statesman, and no party can have a higher mission than to make it a reality wherever governments can legitimately operate."

Analyze this doctrine. Does Mr. Bryan mean—and the question may be asked without a particle of irreverence—that God has enacted for the benefit of human beings a divine law establishing the measure of the rewards of their industry and intelligence; that the divine law has been so loosely framed or so negligently enforced that God's definite intentions in this respect are continually thwarted by the might of the powerful or the wiles of the cunning among His creatures; and that supplementary legislation dictated by Mr. Bryan is therefore required in order to render effective the divine law which the Creator has impotently proclaimed?

If Mr. Bryan's words do not mean that, what can or do they mean—except that the old propensity to the utterance of sanctimonious lumburg for political effect is still his master?—N. Y. Sun.

SAVING OUR FORESTS.

If President Roosevelt had no other permanent results to show for the years of his incumbency in the White House, the work he has accomplished in establishing and developing national forestry should earn for him the appreciation if not the gratitude of his fellow countrymen. From the beginning of his work as President this has been one of the tasks set for himself in which he has taken especial pride. He put at the head of the Department of Forestry an able, energetic and enthusiastic young man, Gifford Pinchot, who has accomplished marvelous results. He took hold of the work in 1898, and since that time the area of national forests has constantly been enlarged until now it comprises 167,000,000 acres. Due credit must be given, however, to President Grover Cleveland for having inaugurated the work, when on Feb. 22d, 1897, thirteen "Forest Reserves" comprising about 26,000,000 acres were created. All have been greatly enlarged since that time and the work has been so systematized that this department is now on a paying basis, the sale of products and range privileges overbalancing the expense. By anyone familiar with our California forests, this great work cannot fail to be appreciated. For years the land pirates had been systematically robbing the government of its forest lands by the abuse of the Homestead and Pre-emption laws. They had reduced perjury to a fine art and made it a crime so common that its commission was looked upon complacently even by otherwise respectable citizens. But this was possibly not so great an evil, measured by material results, as was the terribly destructive practices of the stock men who pastured their cattle and sheep all over the forests, allowing them to eat and trample down the new growth regardless of future necessities. In addition to this was the equally destructive actions of the timber vandals, who cut down the most valuable trees in order to use the choicest portions only. In Mendocino county the writer has seen the mountains near the coast almost denuded of oak trees, the bark only being used for the tannic acid it contained. Considerable credit should be given the legislature of California in this connection for having patriotically turned over Yosemite Valley to the general government in 1905. There was a very strong fight made against this action, and a good deal of spread eagle oratory was wasted in opposing it, but the state had proved itself so incapable of caring for this magnificent and famous resort that common sense and patriotism carried the day and the valley was receded to the United States.

SOMETHING ABOUT THE DOGMATIST.

Benjamin Franklin relates in his biography the reply that a Quaker friend of his made when asked why the Friends had no creed. "Well," he said, "I find that the world does not believe the things now which it believed a hundred years ago, and I do not believe it wise to tie ourselves down to a creed which will not suit us a hundred years hence." The quotation is from memory and far from exact, but the idea is preserved. We refer to it now not for the purpose of making any point in regard to creeds, but to warn the dogmatists of whatever kind and description that they do not yet possess all the wisdom of the ages, and it behooves them to maintain an attitude which will permit of being changed, not by every wind of thought that blows, but by any or every ascertained fact bearing upon the question at issue. It is a wholesome mental exercise for an individual to review the history of his own mental processes, particularly in regard to opinions and to note the changes which have taken place within the time covered by his memory. He will discover that some of them are very radical in character. As a rule the change was a step toward the truth, an evidence of growth, but it was not the ultimate of truth, and there may yet come a time when he will occupy the same position which he deserted long ago, but with additional evidence accumulated along the way, and many better reasons for the opinion arrived at.

The change of thought in the minds of the people within the last 25 or 50 years, has been a remarkable one, as remarkable as the changes in material things, and in the same direction—forward. Fifty years or less ago many good people believed that slavery was a God-given institution, they thought they could prove their position by irrefutable authority of the Scriptures, and their belief was so thorough and genuine that they considered it worth fighting for at a vast expenditure of life and treasures material.

To hold consistently to one's convictions, is usually considered a virtue, but to maintain the same opinion against rapidly accumulating evidence is mere obstinacy. The dogmatist is the most discouraging person in the world—with him there is no more to be said, nothing more to learn. In politics he has a patent nostrum that will cure all the ills that flesh is heir to, and in religion he is equally well equipped against the world, the flesh and the party of the third part. The world is weary of him, but he exists in such infinite variety and is so nearly omnipresent that he must be tolerated with the other afflictions of our daily life.

COUNTRY CLUB NOTES.

Affairs have been rather quiet at the club during the present month, many members being absent on their vacations. Even the Monday evening dances have been neglected by common consent, the aspiring disciples of Terpsichore who have been struggling with the intricate mazes of the two-step for some weeks past, being willing to defer for a while longer the attainment of perfection in the art.

Interest now centers on the approaching tennis matches between the Glendale and the Hollywood teams, which will be played on the Glendale Country Club court next Saturday the 5th. The members and ladies of the Hollywood club will be received by the ladies of the Glendale Country Club in the afternoon and entertained by the club in the evening with a dance. All members of the club and of the Ladies' Auxiliary are requested to be present and assist in the reception and entertainment. A supper will be given to the visiting players by the Glendale team at Casa Verdugo. Altogether this is to be the event of the season. The games will be of great interest to all lovers of tennis and to others who are interested in contests of skill.

Glendale, Cal., Aug. 26, 1908.
To Members and Ladies of Glendale Country Club:

You are earnestly requested to meet at the club parlors on this next Saturday evening, August 29th, for the purpose of arranging for the entertainment of our guests from Hollywood.

We will meet at 8 o'clock, and after the business is over we will have an informal dance.

We hope that a special effort will be made by all to attend this meeting. A good time will be guaranteed. Come Saturday next, sure.

By Order of the Directors.

MASONIC INSTALLATION.

There was initiation at the Masonic lodge last Monday evening and a large number of visitors were present from Los Angeles. A pleasant social time was indulged in until the last car left for the city.

LETTER TO AN ABSENT GLENDALER—ALL ABOUT THE PICNIC.

We old-timers have had a picnic down in lovely Echo Park; could you have seen us gathered there you'd have said "they are out for a lark." We wish you could have been with us but I'll tell you all about it, and if I tell of a gay old time I know you will never doubt it.

We had with us baskets and bundles and boxes all tied up neat, for at the old-timers picnics there is always good things to eat. We numbered over a hundred, an uncommon smart looking crowd, a few were not very old-timers so they could not feel so proud.

We waited for no introduction, but just shook hands all around and asked them how long they had been here and were they hearty and sound. Then we wandered among the flowers and drank of the water, cool as it dripped from the arch above down to the shining pool. E'er long came the welcome message: "The coffee is being made, the baskets and boxes are opened and cloth on the table laid." To tell you how good was that dinner you'll never expect me to try—but one thing will not be forgotten—and that was the apple pie! Oh, that apple pie from the Dell's we shall hold in memory dear, and the pleasant faces gathered 'round may we see them all next year. We guessed at each other ages, we were sure that some were old; though the facts surprised us somewhat when at last they had to be told. The oldest old-timer among us we surely consider all right, for with his eighty years of service his name is still Albright. We listened to the stories old-timers love to hear and they sounded just as witty as when they were aired last year. Then we signed our names and birthplace and enrolled ourselves in the clan and promised to meet in the park next year—at least we will, if we can! And we voted to raise some money to pay for the coffee and such, ten cents apiece per annum. I'm sure it isn't much.

Then Goode was selected to hold it. He's a man just like his name, so we dug up our pieces of silver and handed him over the same. Now a shout arose for Sherer to make us a good-bye speech, and he hardened his heart against it, but still did the crowd beseech, and then they called the louder and melted his kind heart quite, but you know well what he gave us, for his speeches are always right. We do not forget our leader who gave us the kindest care, Old-timer B. F. Patterson, who treated all comers fair.

Then we said good-bye to the people and good-bye to the beautiful park, and we hope good luck will be with us when we meet next year for a lark.

NEW YORK STATE SOCIAL RE-UNION AND BASKET PICNIC.

Eastlake Park, Monday, Sept. 7.
On Monday, Sept. 7, (which will be a legal holiday, known as Labor Day) every New Yorker, now permanently or temporarily residing in Southern California, is requested to join in a big Reunion and Basket Picnic all day at the pleasure grounds of Eastlake Park, Los Angeles.

The arrangements are under the auspices of the New York State society, which meets monthly in Los Angeles, and the members are especially desirous of meeting all former New Yorkers from adjacent cities and towns, and expect a large attendance.

Addresses will be made by Congressman James McLachlan, Judge Klamroth and other prominent Californians, formerly of New York.

Athletic sports, games and other amusements for the young people will form a portion of an interesting program.

Bring a generous basket of lunch, invite your New York friends, and come and spend the holiday with your back-east neighbors, and have a good time generally.

Wear your badge; if you haven't one, get it at the picnic.

Bring cups and purchase coffee on the grounds.

Take a day off!

Be sociable!

MEMORIES OF CHILDHOOD. (Written for the News.)

Julia R. Beers.

Can we forget the scenes of youth, Where oft in childhood's simple truth, We wandered through the woodland's shade, Or in the sunny meadows played?

The book of nature, open wide, Furnished our lessons, and would guide The ramblings of our blithesome feet To fragrant nooks—wild flowers retreat.

And then our blossoms we would toss On the gray rock all crowned with moss Which long had bathed its time-worn feet In the purring flow of the streamlet sweet.

The beech and maple cast their shade, And with it bits of sunlight braid; Brim full of joy the music's flow; Of bird above, and brook below.

Oh, who can count the memories sweet, Of paths once trod by mother's feet? Though now in happiness untold, She walks the wondrous "street of gold."

The fragrant orchard blooms expand, The trees were placed by father's hand; Freed from all earthly labor's strife, He calls fruit from the "tree of life."

Our tender thoughts will ever cling To the grassy glade, at the dear old spring; The ferns and violets, wet with dew, The birds and the daisies loved it too.

Of a broad green leaf we formed a cup, In which to dip the bright drops up, And at the cold and limpid fount, Drank the pure water from the mount.

"Fill cups for grandma too," we cried; (She'd ne'er would our childish fancies chide) We'll not forget her care-worn form, Nor faithful heart with love so warm.

We count her with the "loved and lost," Her weary feet the river crossed; She drinks pure draughts in God's own home, From crystal streams beneath the throne.

The music rang through wide old halls, With their bright fires and pictured walls; And then when tired of mirthful glee, We perched ourselves on grandpa's knee.

The blessings showered his silvery hair, The "crown of glory" resting there; He journeyed far to upper lands, To mansions fair not made with hands.

Oh, should my frail life be driven, Its pilot, Christ—its harbor, heaven; When far from fields of green, I roam, I would look with love on my childhood's home.

IMPROVEMENT ON LOUISE STREET.

This street is not only to be improved within the city limits for its entire length, but through the efforts of Mr. J. A. Cole, arrangements have been made with interested property owners along the street to have the sidewalks and road work extend all the way to the base of the mountains on the north. When this work is completed this will be one of the finest pieces of road work in the valley and the property owners are to be commended for their enterprise. The upper portion of this street has been building up rapidly during the past year or so and the growth will, no doubt, increase more rapidly henceforward.

Notice, Knights of Pythias

There will be a meeting at Eves' plumbing shop, Glendale avenue and Fourth street, Thursday, September 3d, at 7:30 p.m. Mr. James Murray, District Deputy, will be present. COMMITTEE.

CHARGED WITH EMBEZZLEMENT, ACQUITTED.

R. J. Perkins was arrested and tried before Judge Melrose of Tropico on Wednesday last, the jury bringing in a verdict of acquittal. It seems that a part of a bicycle frame was brought to Mr. Perkins's shop some six or seven months ago by a boy who wanted it converted into a good machine. Mr. Perkins spent some money and considerable labor on the job, but after it was completed the owner failed to call for it. After several months had expired Mr. Perkins sold the machine to a third party. This the law permits to be done under the circumstances, but requires that it be duly advertised. This was not done owing to ignorance of the law's provisions. Hence the charge which was not looked upon by the jury as being sustained. Other complications were caused by the seizure of the bicycle from the innocent third party. Altogether it seems to have been a complicated transaction, but we are glad to note that Mr. Perkins is completely exonerated from any intentional wrongdoing.

W. C. T. U. MEETING.

The W. C. T. U. held its regular meeting Friday of last week at the home of Mrs. Brown in Sycamore canyon. There was an interesting program in addition to attractive social features. Mrs. Wood read an instructive paper on scientific temperance. Mrs. Coard, the county superintendent, gave an interesting talk; as did also Mrs. Hester Griffith, the state president. Light refreshments were served and the occasion was most enjoyable as well as profitable.

On Sept. 9th the W. C. T. U. will hold an institute in Glendale from 2 to 6 p.m. and in the evening there will be a silver medal matron's contest. Full program for both affairs will be given next week.

LAUNDRY REOPENS.

We are pleased to announce that the Glendale Steam laundry, at the corner of Woolcott and Remington streets, is now running again under the management of Messrs. Grady and Davis, proprietors. These gentlemen have had large experience in laundry work and guarantee satisfaction to patrons. Their wagon will call for orders given on either phone. This is an enterprise which should receive the patronage of our people. The number of employees will be increased as the work requires and one of the objects of the proprietors will be to assist in building up our community in every way.

LONG BEACH "FESTIVAL OF THE SEA"

Long Beach gives the coming week "A Festival of the Sea," which promises to be a series of unique entertainments gotten up by that enterprising beach city. Elaborate decorations will give the town a gala aspect. Floats appropriate to the subject will appear in parades, with mermaids and everything that is required to stimulate the real thing. There will be airship contests, free shows of all sorts and three grand balls are a part of the program. The festival begins on Tuesday and continues through the week.

REGISTRATION.

Voters are reminded that the closing date for registration to enable any citizen to vote at the general election November 3d, is September 23d. Every voter who has not registered since January first must register by that date or lose his vote.
